12-year-old completes 18 mile bike-a-thon

By ELKE SCHWARZ

BELLE GLADE—Twelve year old Mirta Cabrera was the only one to finish the 18 mile Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon held at the Belle Glade Marina levee on Saturday May 18.

Participants started at the Belle Glade levee and rode on the top of the levee to Pahokee where refreshments were provided, and back.

Four other youngsters (ages ranging from 8-12) participated but ran out of energy at Pahokee, completing a nine mile stretch.

Victor Sabo, from the corps of engineers, and members from the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, assisted at the various checkpoints, keeping the bike path clear of traffic.

Organizing the CF Bike-A-Thon was Joseph Garcia, Pastor of the Iglesia Bautista in Belle Glade, and his wife, Rhonda, a secretary at Glades General Hospital.

The couple have a three year old daughter, Sarah, who has cystic fibrosis.

"Cystic Fibrosis is a genetic disease," said Mrs. Garcia. "Every five hours a child with CF is born, every eight hours a CF child dies."

Cystic Fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children and young adults, was first diagnosed in Sarah when she was four months old.

Doctors used a "sweat test" to determine if Continued on 2

Elke Schwarz named associate editor

ELKE SCHWARZ

JIM JONES

Elke Schwarz, 23, has been named associate editor of the Belle Glade Herald, Publisher Stan Martin announced this week.

Schwarz joined Hammell Newspapers of Florida in November as staff writer for the Herald-Observer.

She is a native of Indiana and a graduate of Ball State University, where she earned a degree in telecommunications.

Jim Jones, editor of the Herald-Observer, will serve as editor of the Belle Glade Herald.

Change in publication of newspapers announced

Hammell Newspapers of Florida announces this week the establishment of the Belle Glade Herald and the Pahokee Observer.

The Herald-Observer, which was published Sept. 12, 1979, to May 16, 1985, will be retired. The Herald-Observer was a merger of the Belle Glade Herald and the Everglades Observer.

The purpose of the change is to improve local news coverage for the individual communities concerned.

By tailoring the newspapers to each community, more local news, features and other items of interest can be provided to our readers, said Publisher Stan Martin.

The newspapers will also provide a convenient, efficient, and reasonable advertising medium. Businesses can target their market, whether it be in Pahokee or Belle Glade, or both.

The Pahokee Observer will be distributed free of charge to all residents of the Pahokee and Canal Point communities.

The Belle Glade Herald will be distributed free to residents of Belle Glade and South Bay.

Other Hammell Newspapers of Florida publications include The Clewiston News, the Glades County Democrat and the Caloosa Belle in LaBelle.

In addition, Hammell Newspapers of Florida prints the Seminole Tribune and the Florida Free Weekly.

The Pahokee Observer claims a lineage dating back to March 11, 1924, when its predecessor, the Everglades News, was established by Howard Sharp at Canal Point.

Another ancestor of the Pahokee Observer, the Pahokee News and Philosophy, was formed in 1933 with Charlie Barfield as owner and editor. The paper later shortened its name to the Pahokee News.

Glades Trend purchased

J. Ray Hatton and Richard N. Hammell this week announce the sale of Glades Trend Publishing, Inc. to Hammell Newspapers.

The Glades Trend, a 22,000 circulation free newspaper based in Pahokee, is distributed free to Wellington and west to Moore Haven.

"We are most pleased and proud that we were able to acquire the Trend. Our readers and advertisers will benefit as we continually work to improve all our publications," Hammell said.

"With this acquisition, we can provide total market coverage that is effective and reasonable in cost to our advertisers and is far beyond that offered by any other media, whether it be direct

In August of 1984, Paul Rardin, who had been employed by the Glades County Democrat in Moore Haven, became editor of the Everglades News.

Rardin bought the Everglades News in 1937 from Mr. and Mrs. Keathly Bowden, who had bought controlling interest in the paper from Sharp the same year.

Mrs. Beryl Bowden, a resident of Clewiston, continues to have an active interest in newspapering and is publisher emerita of The Clewiston News and the Glades County Democrat.

Rardin went on to become a Palm Beach County Commissioner.

In June of 1962, Alys Oakie purchased the Pahokee News and shop and built the building on Annona Avenue in Pahokee.

Eventually, the Pahokee News and Everglades Observer merged and was printed as the Everglades Observer from 1967 to 1979.

The first edition of the Belle Glade Herald was printed July 26, 1940, with Frank Snavely as editor.

The Belle Glade Herald was published continuously as such from that date in 1940 until its merger with the Everglades Observer in 1979.

The Belle Glade Herald is located at 607 South Main St., Suite 104, Belle Glade.

The Pahokee Observer is located at 147 Annona Ave., Pahokee, where it shares space with Lakeshore Printing.

Both papers will continue to be printed in Clewiston.

"Our goal is to provide the best news and advertising medium possible to the Glades area," said Publisher Stan Martin. "We welcome any comments or suggestions on how we may better serve the area."

City concerned about erosion of power

SOUTH BAY—City leaders expressed concern this week that South Bay could be losing representation and power in the county.

The concern comes following a letter from the Palm Beach County League of Cities which is considering plans to restructure the league so that "small cities without important issues" have fewer votes.

The City Commission Tuesday came out against such a move and is calling for "equal representation" no matter what the size of the city.

The letter indicated that small cities don't have problems "as significant" as larger ones. Mayor Clarence Anthony said, "We have as many concerns as cities on the coast. This move would lessen our power."

Commissioner Don Tanner echoed the mayor. He said, "No matter how small the city, the concerns are just as important as a large one."

The commissioners believe each city should have an equal number of votes, no matter what the size.

The mayor said, "I don't want to see the League lose its effectiveness."

In other business, the Commission took action on the following:

Sniper suspects released on bail

The two men accused of the sniper attacks on March 8 have been released on $5,000 bond by a West Palm Beach judge.

Jose Amat and Roberto Cabellero, both 18, were arrested in Belle Glade on one count of first degree murder, two counts of aggravated assault, and two counts of aggravated battery after being apprehended for allegedly shooting two black men in a field on SR 715 and one black woman at 715 Trailer Park from a van last March.

At the March 28 hearing in Belle Glade County Judge Don Adams denied a bond plea for the men because of the men's behavior, "riding down the road and shooting people and then making a joke of frightening people."

Adams also said "that the primary consideration should be the safety of the community."

At that time, Nelson Bailey and Thomas Montgomery, attorneys for the defendants, were given 10 to decide whether or not to move the case to West Palm Beach.

After a jury trial in West Palm Beach, Judge John Borna granted both Amat and Cabellero to be released on $5,000 bond with special conditions.

The conditions for both men are not to live in or enter the Glades area pending their trial and they are not allowed to carry or use a firearm.

Brush fires keep firemen busy

By ELKE SCHWARZ

Brush fires have been sweeping the state of Florida for the past five months.

Here in the Glades, Belle Glade Fire Chief Jesse Womack estimates he and his crew have fought 20-25 brush fires since January 1985.

Brush fires mainly strike during the "dry season," otherwise known as winter.

"Due to the freeze in January, the soil has been dried out," said South Bay Fireman Gregory King. "And we haven't had much rainfall."

"If we had a moist ground there would be no problem," agreed Womack. "But hot winds dry leaves quickly allowing fire to spread."

How does a brush fire actually start? Both Womack and King agree that in the Glades area, careless people who are unaware of where they toss their cigarette butts, are the major contributors in starting a brush fire.

Glades Day graduation location changed

Glades Day School graduation exercises have been changed from McWhorter Hall to the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center, according to a school official.

The graduation ceremonies will start at 8 p.m., Friday, May 23.

A BRUSH FIRE roayages the countryside approximately 20 miles south of South Bay.

Glades Central announces scholastic leaders

BELLE GLADE—This year's Glades Central High School valedictorian and salutatorian are best friends and share similar goals and backgrounds.

Valedictorian Maxine Cole, daughter of Eulee and Alfred Cole, excelled academically at Glades Central.

Salutatorian Neomi Oliver, daughter of Zedie and Charlie James Oliver, also was outstanding in academics.

Both students are members of the National Honor Society.

Maxine served as president of the senior class and was a member of Future Business Leaders of America.

She was a member of the Math Club and Dance Club and participated in Academic Games.

Maxine was Miss Senior at Homecoming and received Pathfinder honors in mathematics.

The graduating senior plans to study electrical engineering at Florida Atlantic University.

Neomi, also a member of Future Business Leaders of America, served as president of Student Council and participated in Academic Games.

She was a member of the Math Club and Dance Club. She was honored as Miss Homecoming Debutante.

Active in the community, Neomi does volunteer work for churches and plans after-school activities at Glades Central.

She also served as student representative of the PTA.

Neomi has been accepted by the University of Florida. She plans to study chemistry and go into nursing.

Both students have been recognized for their academic excellence. Maxine received a $1,000 Martin Luther King scholarship. Neomi received a $1,000 Daughters of America scholarship.

Both graduates say they'll miss their teachers and the friends they made at Glades Central.

But at the same time they're anxious to get started on this new phase of their lives.

Fire

"With a 20 m.p.h. wind, a fire can spread around 5 miles an hour," said Womack. "And a lot faster if the winds are up."

Womack said that brush fires aren't as bad in this area as in others.

"Loxahatchee is mainly timber land whereas Belle Glade is 90 percent planted land," he said. "There aren't really any wooded areas around here."

Each brush fire is a different one and must be fought "according to the situation" says Womack.

"Out in the low grass area two to three men can handle the fire," said Womack. "With maiden cane, five to six men are on the scene."

For a brush fire spreading too rapidly for firefighters to control, amphibious sea-going airplanes can be rented for a whopping price of $3,000 an hour.

"The airplanes can be rented from Atlanta and they start charging for them the minute they take off," said Womack. "It skims the water, filling its water capacity, and flies over the fire spreading water the blaze."

But how fast firemen get to the scene plays a major role in retaining control of a fire.

"The quicker we get to the scene," says Womack, "the less time it takes to put the fire out."

Bike-a-thon

she had CF. The effect of CF on the sweat glands results in a high concentration of salt in the perspiration of individuals with the disease.

Because of the excessive salt loss in her body, Sarah spends a week in the hospital during the summer months due to dehydration.

"It was also hard for her to gain weight," said Mrs. Garcia. "She was seven pounds at birth and at eight pounds she weighed eight pounds. Now she's up to 25 pounds."

The problem of gaining weight lies in the digestive problems afflicted with CF.

"Her pancreas doesn't produce enough enzymes to digest food," Mrs. Garcia said. "She has to take five 'Pancrease' pills with every meal to help digest her food."

Thick sticky mucus blocks the passageways that carry enzymes to different parts of the body.

To loosen the mucus, a process called 'percussioning', (thumping certain points of the body) is used.

Sarah is percussioned twice a day. "We percussion her on her chest and the top of her back while she's sitting up and her sides with her head pointing downward," said Mrs. Garcia.

Every six weeks, the Garcias drive the long stretch of road leading to Miami, where Sarah gets a checkup at the Mailman Center for Child Development.

Mrs. Garcia calls Sarah a 'very active child' and a 'fighter'.

"A CF child has a life span of 20-21 years," said Mrs. Garcia. "It's a slow death, but I wouldn't have missed her for the world."

As a member of a statewide CF support group, Mrs. Garcia said that after the family moved to Belle Glade from Haines City last December, they were surprised that they didn't find other CF children in the Glades area, since the disease strikes one out of every 2000 births.

"Alex: The Life of a Child," by Sports Illustrated writer Frank Deford, who also had a daughter with CF, is a book that hits home, says Mrs. Garcia.

"He calls it the cruellest disease," she said, "because it affects breathing, digesting, eating, and reproducing—so what's left?"

Mrs. Garcia said that her family, which includes five other children besides Sarah, is remaining positive about CF.

"There is talk about gene replacement therapy with diseases in 1986, hopefully it will work for CF," said Mrs. Garcia. "Getting through each day is a miracle. You really realize how precious life is."

Going full circle

Back in 1979, the Everglades Observer and the Belle Glade Herald merged to become the Herald-Observer.

Over the next six years, the Herald-Observer did yeoman's duty covering the news of Canal Point, Belle Glade, Pahokee, and South Bay.

Now, the newspapers have come full circle and this week we are proud to publish the Pahokee Observer and the Belle Glade Herald.

The Pahokee Observer is back in business at 147 Annona Avenue, Pahokee, where its predecessor papers were published for so many years.

The Belle Glade Herald will continue to have its offices at Suite 104, 607 South Main St., Belle Glade.

What are the advantages of having distinct papers for each community?

We believe there are many: a better editorial product, a larger news hole, and improved advertising vehicles.

Just as important, perhaps more so, will be the emergence of the personality of the paper.

The Herald-Observer staff can be proud of the job it did over the past seven years. The news staff conscientiously covered the local scene...better we believe than anyone else in the area.

But that name—the Herald-Observer—gave us some identity problems. People weren't sure where the Herald-Observer came from or where we were. A question that always greeted our reporters was, "Are you from the Glades Trend?"

The Glades Trend, now one of our sister papers, has an undercurrent, and feature ideas. The promotional genius of its founder, Larry Tucker.

There will be no question about what town the Pahokee Observer serves. At the same time, the name ties in the paper's ancestry very well, a gensology that includes the Everglades Observer, the Everglades News, and the Pahokee News and Philosophy.

And the same can be said about the Belle Glade Herald. Belle Glade has had a Belle Glade Herald since the early 1940s.

Pahokee was harder hit by the merger of the two papers than was Belle Glade. Belle Glade continued to have an office throughout. Pahokee didn't.

We have now corrected that situation. We invite the residents of the communities we serve to work with us to make the newspapers that best they can be.

We welcome wedding announcements, news of church socials, anniversaries, and feature ideas. We also welcome the tips on hard news stories.

In other words, for a community newspaper to be successful, it must have the support and cooperation of the citizens it serves.

Both the Belle Glade Herald and Pahokee Observer will be community boosters. They will be positive forces in the cities they serve.

We are pleased to be able to print and distribute the Belle Glade Herald and the Pahokee Observer.

We feel good about the changes we are announcing. The folks who have most to gain are our readers. We will do our best for you.

The purpose of the race at Indy

Any racetrack fan will tell you that on Memorial Day Weekend, Indianapolis, Indiana is the place in the nation to visit.

Indianapolis, otherwise known as home of the Indianapolis 500 Motor Speedway, draws its largest tourism crowd on Memorial Day Weekend.

On Race Day, you can bet that everyone is at the track or listening to the race on the radio. (We can't get live television coverage of the race.)

I have lived in Indianapolis for most of my life and although I only lived 45 minutes from the Speedway, I have never been to the Indy 500.

I can compare my not going to "The Greatest Spectacle in Racing" to native Floridians not going to Disneyworld—you just kinda don't go to those places that you live around.

I listen to the race, but I am rather adamant about not going to it.

I mean, who wants to go see a bunch of cars travel around and around the same track 200 times?

Surely that can't be very exciting.

It's like roller skating, going around and around in the same circle—rather pointless if you ask me.

I wonder if most people go to the track just to see the drivers crash.

The sight of a race car spinning out of control, hitting the wall and bursting into flames may be what some people term as exciting. Isn't that almost like the gladiator fights "way back when?"

They say those spectators near the wall of a crash can actually feel the intense heat and may also suffer burns.

How's that for fun?

Elke Schwarz

It's what author Stephen King calls "Morbid Curiosity", the reason people slow down when they approach a bad car accident, or watch a boxing match, or watch a horror film—and you know what I think about horror films—for blood and guts.

Well, the Indy 500 does serve its purpose. At least it keeps the lead foot drivers off the road for a day.

Pentecost: the awakening of the church

Introduction

In Acts 2:1-4 we read, "When the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place. And suddenly a sound came from heaven like the rush of a mighty wind, and it filled all the houses where they were sitting. And there appeared on them tongues as of fire, distributed and resting on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues as the spirit gave them utterance."

Pentecost was the second of the great Jewish pilgrimage feasts. It was the religious close of harvest time. The Jews at the time of Christ celebrated this as a festival of thanksgiving and it was held fifty days after the Feast of the Passover on the first day of the week (our Sunday). By law every male Jew was required to come to worship at this time. All were included in the joyous celebration—rich, poor, Levites and strangers. The feast took place seven weeks (therefore, Feast of Weeks) after the offering of the first sheaves or fruits of the crops.

The offering of thanksgiving included two loaves (grain to be grown on one's own land) of fine flour and leaven, along with seven lambs, on bullock and two rams. In addition, one lamb was sacrificed as a sin offering and two lambs for a peace offering. Voluntary offerings were according to the size of the harvest of each individual.

The demand of attendance at the feast provided a tremendous audience for the first Christian sermon and the demonstration of the Holy Spirit. The conversion and baptism of three thousand people on the first day got the Church, as it was to be called, off to a good start and showed the tremendous power of the Holy Spirit.

At first, Pentecost was observed in the

Dr. David T. Evans

Everglades Presbyterian Church

Church for the whole fifty days after the Resurrection of Christ. After the Council of Elvira, in 305 A.D., the observance was limited to the fiftieth day. In the early days, this was a time when fasting was forbidden, the theatre was closed, and circus games were suspended.

In the churches, Pentecost was celebrated by reading of the Acts of the Apostles and frequently singing Hallelujah Psalms. The time before Easter is a time of fasting and after Easter it is a time of rejoicing.

George M. Gibson, in his "The Story of the Christian Year," says, "The English designation 'Whitsunday' for this celebration means simply, 'white Sunday', from the baptismal robes of the candidates the altar color of the day being red. It was erroneously believed in earlier times that this name came from 'wit' and was supposed to connote the Spirit's gift of wit, or wisdom, to the Church."

The red of Pentecost tells of the blood and fire of the early church and martyrdom suffered. The worship service celebrated this day traditionally begins with the choir singing "The Spirit of the Lord has filled the whole earth." With this proclamation, the birthday of the Church is observed with exultation; unity is sought through prayer; the triumph of the Church through victory in Christ is proclaimed.

The Church was launched on its world-wide mission with a message, with prayers, and the Holy Spirit. The last words of Jesus to his disciples were, "You shall be my witnesses."

Before the disciples or Apostles (One sent out) went out to preach they spent much time in prayer. This praying was for preparation and guidance. Prayer comes before action! When the Holy Spirit fell upon them "as tongues of fire" they were ready. These apostles had a message which was unique. The had good news for the world-God loves all men. He loved us so much He sent His only Son to pay the ransom for you and me. This ransom was paid in flesh and blood—Jesus' life. Yet, the death was not all because the resurrection shows God's victory over the forces of evil.

The deciding factor in the launching of the Church is the Holy Spirit. The Spirit who comes from God reminds us of the message of God and makes the story a reality in our lives.

The humanity of Christ in which He identifies Himself with us is made real by the Holy Spirit. In this reality we can feel the sufferings and misery of Christ, not as something morbid, but as a motivation for our full commitment to God and His Church.

The message Peter so moved the Pentecost crowds in Jerusalem that they were "cut to the heart", and asked, "what shall we do?" The Holy Spirit used the Apostle Peter as a channel for the conversion and change of the lives of the people on Pentecost. Let the Holy Spirit so use you!

The message of Pentecost is "Go to church prepared to celebrate its awakening. Go in prayer remembering the message and be guided by the Holy Spirit. Most of all go to Church on Sunday."

City must toot its own horn

One thing Belle Glade City Commissioners know is that it is up to them to provide the leadership and guidance to solve the city's problems.

No one is going to do it for them. Local residents needn't count on state or federal officials or any other so-called outside experts to come up with magic solutions.

Recently, commissioners gave the Economic Development Board the go-ahead to print brochures describing the area's assets to prospective new industry and employers.

The brochure will be similar to one already produced by Hendry County, which is making a serious bid to earn Blue Chip Community certification.

The state awards the Blue Chip certification to communities which have completed a state blueprint, covering six areas: economic development, organization, community preparation and appearance, information, existing industry, financial assistance, and site and building requirements.

The Blue Chip designation is used in advertising by Florida in its effort to lure industry from other states.

Obviously, the Blue Chip certification is highly desirable and many Florida communities are competing fiercely for it. A new payroll and the right kind of industry can make a major change in a community.

And so the $180 investment by the commission in the brochures is a worthy investment...even if it provokes only a few inquiries.

We believe Belle Glade will be one of the premiere Florida cities of the future. Any investment in economic development will benefit us, our children, and our grandchildren.

Glades Fishing report :

Bluegills and specks Lake Okeechobee is providing entertainment for scores of fishermen. Benton Tyson has been getting his limits of specks fishing the holes in the rim canal using jigs. Congratulations, Benton - but not for the fish - for Lindal.

Saturday, Warren Prescott, Paul Orsenigo and some friends from Melbourne got themselves a limit of specks.

Eddie Campbell, Jimmy Hardy and Joe Scott came in Saturday with 75 shellcrackers. Everyone that's been fishing for bluegills has gotten as many as they want. The bluegills are still biting the beetle spins and worms.

Tom Johnson from West Palm Beach had a limit of bass last week that weighed 34 pounds. He was fishing the Bare Beach channel using red shad worms. Last Sunday was the monthly fishing tournament of the Lake Okeechobee Tackle Testers. First place was won by Dennis Milliron and Buddy Ramsey with 25 pounds 3 oz. According to Dennis "some" of their fish came from the Long Point area. Second place went to Darrell Mathis and boating and good luck fishing.

Compliments of Tennessee's Pro Guide Service

David Shuts with 23 lbs. 10 oz. And the Big Fish of the day weighed in at 6 3/4 lbs. and was the prize of Pablo Sanchez.

For the past week I've had the pleasure of fishing some of the lakes in northeastern Tennessee. Fishing was great, but nothing can compare with Lake Okeechobee. I'm glad to be back home.

Until next week, safe boating and good luck fishing.

Glades Day has spring grid practice

BELLE GLADE--Conditioning for spring football training is year round for Glades Day football players.

Byron Walker, now in his 10th year coaching football at Glades Day, requires players to work out in the weight room throughout the year to keep them in shape for spring training.

While team members work out, Walker instructs them on the weights, pointing out which weights build up which muscles.

"The point of all this year round training, Walker says, is to have them conditioned for spring practice when they learn the fundamentals of football such as stances, starts and tackling maneuvers. "We usually have a total of 27 boys try out for the team," said Walker. "After evaluation at the end of spring training, we usually have 24-26 boys who make the team."

After school, approximately two hours are dedicated to training, where a mixture of the hot sun and heavy uniforms can lead to extra water loss.

But, not to worry. "We watch the kids really close so they won't suffer heat exhaustion," said Walker. "We give them a sufficient amount of water fluids."

Mendy Perez and Dick Schmidt are key men on the Glades Day coaching staff. Perez is in charge of the defensive squad and Schmidt instructs players on the punting and receiving end of the game.

In the past, Walker has produced an winning team, taking his team to the state playoffs four times in five years.

This year, Walker doesn't look for a state title.

"We have a young team this year," said Walker. "We're going to take it a week at a time."

Right now, the Glades Day football team is getting ready to participate in a five team jamboree, which includes Lemon Bay, Frostproof, Port Charlotte, Labelle, and Frostproof to be held at Lemon Bay on Thursday, May 23 at 7 p.m.

RIGOROUS WORKOUTS are all part of spring training.

South Lake Okeechobee Community Development Credit Union officially opens

BELLE GLADE—A new credit union has officially opened its doors in Belle Glade for Glades residents.

The South Okeechobee Community Development Federal Credit Union is an initiative of the Lutheran Ministries of Florida. It opened Wednesday, May 15 at 917 S.W. Ave. B Place, Belle Glade.

Board member Lance Sams said the credit union was established in Belle Glade because the Lutheran Ministries of Florida has a base operation here.

"This (Credit Union) is open to the whole spectrum of society," Sams said. "The original concept was to reach the small depositors."

Sams said the credit union arose out of the perceived need for a safe depository for farmworker families in the area.

The Federal Government had several agencies submit grant applications.

The Lutheran Ministries 1984.

He said one of the advantages to a credit union is the easier availability of loans to union members. The credit union offers shares for $5 each, payroll deduction plans, share loans, unsecured loans and co-maker loans. Deposits are insured by the FDIC for up to $100,000.

The Credit Union plans to buy housing and renovate and resell to home buyers, according to Sams.
